SCOUTING

THE SHOPS with Sally

● Maybe we shouldn't tell about this in public print, but we're so thoroughly mad at the moment we don't care.

● It all started innocently enough when a neighbor of ours said she was going away for a week, and would we mind keeping her dog. Towser was so good; such a dear! Oh, yes, there was Chirpie, too, but he wasn't a bit of trouble.

● We demurred slightly, but all in all didn't think that a dog and a bird would be too much of a problem. Besides, we knew Mrs. Z. would be home in plenty of time for the big whist party the Native Daughters are giving Wednesday night, less than a week away. (P. S. We hear the prizes are really grand).

● Anyway, we went gaily up-town to the Daly City Cut Rate Market to buy Towser some Friskies, 22c for a 2-pound box. We lingered long enough to get some mayonnaise for ourselves with a free berry dish; picked up some nice fresh fruit, and blithely turned home.

● We were congratulating ourselves smugly on what a different place the lawn had looked since we invested a few cents in some of the lovely begonias at the Daly City nursery, when we turned the last corner. What a sight of ruin smote our eye! Limp remains of leaves and blossoms were scattered far up and down the sidewalk, and Towser no place to be seen!

● With murder in our heart we marched into the house—only to quail, ourselves, at the fire in John's usually meek eye as he advanced toward us, waving a pair of torn and muddy trousers.

● "What in the Sam Hill does this mean?" he practically roared. "My best pants!"

● Some time later, with the injured trousers sent to the Beeson Cleaners, and the erring Towser properly chastised, we settled down to look at a magazine, absently thinking of the bargain that A. M. Harrison was offering (Continued on Page 3)

Old Time Player Returns to D. C.

A game that promises to be of interest to young and old residents of Daly City alike will be played on the Jefferson Union high school grounds at 11 a. m. Sunday when the Mill Valley Babes meet the Daly City Juniors.

The Babes are managed by a veteran whom the old regiment will remember as "Dip" Caulfield, who played ball here thirty years ago. The game promises to be of unusual interest on all scores.

Oldest exhibit on Treasure Island is conceded to be the skull of an Eohippus, antediluvian ancestor of all horses, in the Hall of Sciences. Dating from the Eocene, or earliest mammal age, the skull is over a million years old. "Youngest" exhibit—latest wrinkles in television, is in the same building.

Daly City Theatre Shows Drama Of Sam Houston's Eventful Life

RICHARD DIX

For the third time, Richard Dix, starred in Republic's "Man of Conquest," now playing at the Daly City theatre, the first screen dramatization of the life of Sam Houston, has been made an Indian Chieftain before the cameras. This time, for "Man of Conquest," he was made a chief of the Cherokee Nation in ceremonials that stimulated the rites which took place in Sam Houston's life more than a hundred years ago.

In "Man of Conquest," Dix portrays Sam Houston, liberator.

Joan Fontaine and Gail Patrick have the feminine leads in this Republic picture:

Companion feature on the current bill is the rollicking comedy-mystery story, "It's A Wonderful World." James Stewart and Claudette Colbert are starred.

Native Daughters Plan Whist Party

One of the biggest whist parties of the summer will be held next Wednesday evening, August 2, at Masonic hall by El Carmelo Parlor No. 181, Native Daughters of the Golden West.

Called an "officers' whist," the affair is sponsored by officials of the organization, headed by Mrs. Ann Biggio, trustee, as chairman.

There will be several outstanding prizes, including cash prizes and a large basket of groceries. Tickets may be secured from the organization, which extends a cordial invitation to the general public to attend.

Many Electric Outlets

Important to Kitchen

When electric outlets are being planned in a new house for lamps, clocks and radios, the kitchen is often neglected. It has more uses for plugs than any other room.

Within reasonable limits, there cannot be too many appliance outlets in the kitchen. In this room electricity is used both for lighting and for motivating power.

Consumption of current varies widely with kitchen appliances, and special attention should be given to the load the outlet is expected to carry.

Just Sterilize Containers

To Prevent Ropy Bread

"Ropiness" in bread is caused by a bacillus and it makes the bread unfit for use. All containers in which the bread was mixed, baked, and stored should be sterilized by boiling. Ropiness in bread does not develop immediately after the bread has been baked, but announces itself by a disagreeable odor.

To Remove Jar Covers

To remove covers from preserve jars place the jar top downward in a dipper of hot water (not boiling) and allow it to remain five or ten minutes. Remove the jar from the dipper and insert a steel kitchen knife at different points under the rubber. This will let in the air. The cover can then be removed easily.

On Washing Curtains

When washing curtains put dye or tint in the washing machine with the soap flakes. They color more evenly this way.

Make Modern Laundry Out Of Waste Space Upstairs

Waste space upstairs can easily be fashioned into a modern laundry, brightened up with paint and hung with some of those attractive low-priced curtains that are always bobbing up in such variety. If you read floor plans of modern houses you have discovered the growing trend for off-the-kitchen-laundries. Equipment designed for such rooms includes washers that pump themselves empty.

Ironing has always been an upstairs operation, possibly because it is easier to transfer ironed clothes to proper storing places without danger of over-mussing. Many ironers have table tops that serve a real purpose in the small kitchen, and there are washers tailored to kitchen size, too.

House Cleaning Is Made

Easy by Use of Vacuum

The days are gone forever when, to clean a rug thoroughly, it was necessary to hang it on a clothesline or lay it on the grass and beat it with a bamboo or steel wire contraption.

Today, thanks to electricity and the vacuum cleaner, rug beating is a thing of the past in millions of homes. Moreover, in addition to eliminating much work and drudgery, the vacuum cleaner raises practically no dust and thus greatly reduces the time required for dusting.

Household Refrigerator

To get the best results from the household refrigerator, it is well to decide in advance which foods are to go in and which ones to be taken out instead of pondering the question while the door is open. Every time that happens the temperature goes up and the longer the door stays open the higher up it goes. Another wise precaution is to make sure that cooked foods are well cooled before putting them into the food chest, otherwise the heat and moisture generated will also cause the temperature to rise.

this week in discontinued models of Wedgewood stoves at really amazing price reductions—a marvelous chance to pick up a new stove for almost nothing.

● We'll try to be calm about this, but the next thing that happened was a ripping sound from the back yard. We dashed to the door just in time to see Towser leaping at the clean clothes blowing on the line. Three sheets were completely—well, we're going to be calm. The only silver lining is the fact that Henry Warshawski is having a sensational sale this week on fine quality sheets and pillowcases, at prices that are really low—worth investigating (even for people who don't keep a neighbor's dog).

● Meanwhile, Chirpie, living up to his name, was slowly driving Grandma crazy. Never having quieted a canary, we were at a total loss, until we thought of playing phonograph records. Do you know that Byrne Radio store now carries every variety of record, from "Beer Barrel Polka" to Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Sharp Minor." Blue Bird and Decca records, besides Victor.

● We tried both jitterbug music and the classics, but Chirpie just couldn't take a hint. In despair we finally sent Grandma off to visit a friend and spend the evening at the Daly City theatre. (She also wanted to stop at the new Castle Garden Grocery, opening at School street at Station avenue.)

● Desisting from our unsuccessful efforts with Chirpie, we dashed into the kitchen. From whence came a suspicious smell. Sure enough, there was our dinner practically ruined. The cake we had gone to so much pains to bake with rich, fresh butter from Robertson's Egg Store and Sperry's cake flour from Milo's market (the cheapest way to buy a little, when a sudden crash in recognition. The ice-cream (mixed in a jiffy with Jello ice-cream mix from Milo's) was doing nicely, but the tender, green corn we had brought home was also ruined.

● Wiping away one or two wrathful tears, we gave the Geneva Bakery a call. They deliver oven-fresh, tender cakes at a moment's notice; and the way they decorate them is nothing short of a work of art.

● That settled, we looked at the veal chops that had been so nice when we brought them home from Farmer's Meat market. They were pretty well ruined, too; and what we could have said to Chirpie can't be printed. Collecting ourselves as best we could, we began to cook the fresh beef liver we had been saving for breakfast.

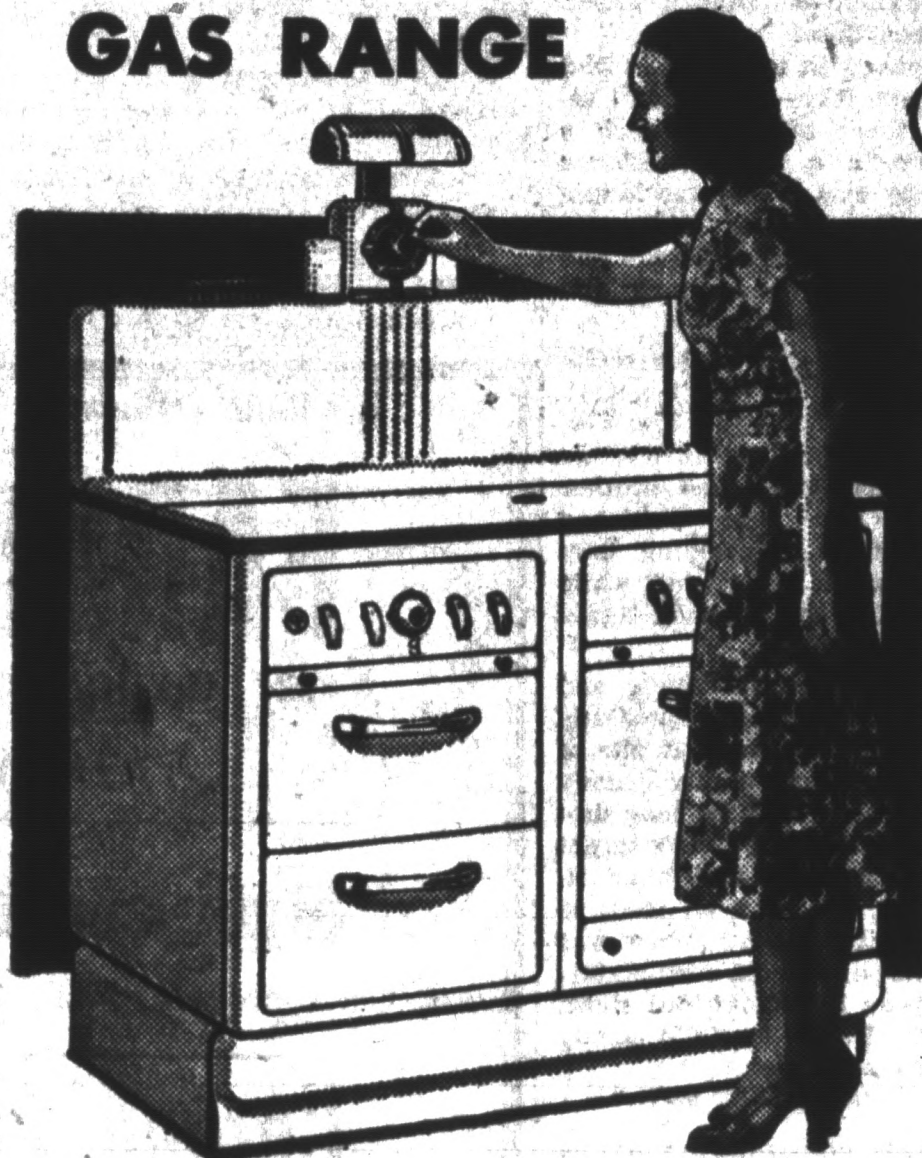

● Starting to mix up a salad with some lovely crisp salad greens from Westlake market, we carried on as best we could.

● We had even begun to sing a little, when a sudden crash in (Continued on Page 4)

JOY AMONG THE OLD CORN-STALKS

The happiest place in all the world—You know, of course you do. It's the place called home—your very own.

Now haven't I told you true? OF COURSE I have. There isn't any place like it for pure joy and happiness. There may be much finer homes than your own, but right down, deep in your heart you know perfectly well that not even in the finest of them is there so much real happiness as in your own dear home—not for you, anyway.

Now, the home of Danny Meadow Mouse wasn't much to look at. It was just a little round house of corn stalks and grass in the middle of a pile of old corn-stalks on the edge of Farmer Brown's cornfield, but to little Mite, the lost baby of Danny, whom Farmer Brown's boy had brought back again without knowing it, it was the most beautiful place in all the Great World.

As he scrambled down among the corn-stalks to the little path that led to the little round doorway, he called at the top of his funny little squeaky voice: "Here I am! Here I am! I've come home! I've come home!" Out tumbled his brother and two sisters, Teeny, Weeny, and Midget, and crowded around him and rubbed noses with him, which is the Meadow Mouse way of kissing, and told him how glad they were to see him, and asked him if he really had seen the Great World, and what it was like, all talking at once and making such a squeaking as that pile of corn-stalks never had known before.

Little Mite wondered why his father and mother didn't come out to greet him, and as soon as he got a chance he asked where they were. "They are out hunting for you," replied Teeny. "They've been out every day since you went away, and we've all been so miserable and lonesome. You won't run away again, will you, Mite?"

"Never!" declared Mite. "Never so long as I live!" And he really meant it.

"Won't this be the best surprise for father and mother that ever was?" cried Midget, dancing about excitedly. "You go inside the house, Mite, and we'll play outside. Then when they go in they'll find you there. Oh, won't it be fun?"

So when they thought it was about time for Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse to return, Mite went inside. He wondered what they would say to him, and what they would do to punish him, for he knew that he deserved to be punished. You see, if he hadn't disobeyed in the first place he wouldn't have been lost. But he was so glad to be home again that he didn't mind the thought of punishment. Nothing could be worse than what he had been through.

Danny and Nanny were late in getting home, and they were so tired and footsore, with their long search for little Mite, and so sad, that it made Mite's heart ache as he peeped out at them. It really was punishment enough just to see them and to feel that he was the cause of it. They noticed right away that Teeny, Weeny, and Midget seemed very much excited. Danny stopped to ask the reason, but Nanny hurried into the house. Such a squeal as there was then!

Danny rushed in to see what had happened, and then—well I don't believe that there ever was such a time before in a Meadow Mouse home. Nanny was crying and laughing at the same time. Mite was crying a little, and even Danny had to blow his nose very hard and wipe his eyes.

Of course, Mite expected a scolding at least, but he didn't get it. No, sir, he didn't get it. You see, when he told about all his terrible adventures his father and mother thought he had been punished enough. Instead of scolding they prepared a great feast, and while they ate it Mite told all over again about his adventures.

Everybody asked questions, and there was such a happy squeaking and chattering down in that pile of old corn-stalks that finally Danny had to put a stop to it for fear that Reddy Fox or Old Man Coyote might be prowling around and hear it. And when at last they all went to bed in the little house there was great joy among the old corn-stalks, for everything had come out right, just as Peter Rabbit had told Danny Meadow Mouse it would.

Plan Grand Opening For Castle Garden Food Market

David Richetti, proprietor, announced the opening today of Castle Garden Grocery, his new deluxe food mart at School street and Station avenue.

The store will carry a full line of quality staple groceries, fresh fruits and vegetables. Special bargain features will be displayed for opening days today and tomorrow.

Mr. Richetti is an experienced grocer. He formerly operated a store at Hayes and Webster streets, San Francisco.

the backyard sent us flying to the door, only to see where Towser had knocked over the bottle of fresh milk the Mission Creamery had just left. He was licking it up as it ran across the sidewalk, and happily wagging his tail at us.

● We turned into the house, wondering savagely if Jinx could make a hot-dog out of Towser. However, we like Jinx, and wouldn't let Towser go near him—besides, did you know that Jinx was selling a full pint of ice-cream for only 15c?

● Which reminds us that Luc-ca Ravioli company has some extra-nice grapes at 3 pounds for 10c; and some of the tenderest veal steak we've eaten in a long time, 22c a pound.

● Too worn out to finish getting dinner, we persuaded John to take us to the Hilltop Lodge, leaving Chirpie chirping disconsolately and Towser howling at the moon.

● It was several hours later—we had all settled into deep slumber on the beds that have been so heavenly soft since the Daly City Mattress company renovated the mattresses, when we heard Towser prowling softly around

Sewing With Iron Is Newest Stunt

The fashion-wise girl of today can "run up a new number" for the country club dance with a hot iron in less time than it takes to tell it.

Sewing with an iron is a bit of sartorial magic that can be performed by any deft seamstress working with fabrics treated with a new material that makes them waterproof and spotproof. When two pieces of treated fabric are pressed together with a hot iron, the result is a non-separating and practically invisible seam.

Known to scientists as koroseal, this new substance was used to treat fabrics introduced in New York at a fashion show of beach and cruise styles held at the World's Fair. One smart outfit designed for sailing consisted of a skirt of brown waterproofed cotton and a white parka, also waterproofed, fastened down the front with an emerald green zipper. Seams of both jacket and skirt were heat-sealed, no sewing being necessary.

A sports jacket of white silk waterproofed with koroseal was trimmed with vertical stripes in green, red and yellow, which had been heat-sealed to the fabric.

Another interesting ensemble consisted of a frock of printed georgette which had been treated with the process to make it waterproof and spotproof, and a dress-maker coat of white silk. The latter, trimmed with bindings and a sash belt of the georgette, was suitable for a rain-coat or a light wrap on a cool summer day.

Fashion writers are hailing the new process as important news and predicting that it will have great influence on styles during the coming months as it will enable designers to make use of heretofore "perishable" fabrics in an entirely new way.

Then in only a second there was a resounding crash as Towser knocked over the clock. The alarm went off with a terrific bang, the baby began to howl, John leaped to his feet, Towser yelped at the top of his voice—

Vacuum Cleaner With Clean Dust Bag Best

A vacuum cleaner with a clean dust bag does the best cleaning job, studies at Purdue university experiment station show. For best service the bag should be emptied after each daily use. Never wash the bag, as that destroys the finish that keeps it dustproof.

How much dust a machine draws from a rug, the studies indicate depends partly on how fast it is pushed back and forth. Most machines clean best if they are moved at a speed of from one to two feet a second.

Naturally, the machine should not be allowed to pick up pins, tacks, or glass because these sharp objects may poke holes in the bag or chip the fan blades.

It is also desirable to keep the machine in a clean place, protected from dirt and dust.

A polish which decorators and makers of fine furniture have used for years to protect the patina of old woods is now available in the general market and should be in the mop closet of every owner of antique furniture.

well, we leave the rest to your imagination.

P. S. We will add that the clock wasn't hurt a bit. It was a New Ingersoll from Edward's Drug Store, and only cost a dollar.

A new type of venetian blind now on the market is made of aluminum and consequently is easily cleaned, impervious to discoloration from rain and needs no periodic refurbishing. Other virtues of the new blinds are that in winter they reflect the heat of the room inwards and in summer the sun's heat is reflected outward.

An ice cube crusher may now be had attached to a tub, which serves as an ice container. The crusher holds three trays of ice cubes and has a removable hopper.

The largest typewriter in the world is on exhibition at the New York World's Fair. It weighs 14 tons and it spells out words in letters three inches tall.

COLD CUTS FOR DELICIOUS VARIETY

See Recipes Below

Cold Cuts for Variety

For a 'help-yourself-party' (or almost any other lunch or supper) few foods rival in popularity a platter of "cold cuts." Designed to tempt the appetite, and to provide interesting variety, this good-to-look-at and good-to-eat dish is a summer favorite.

Salami, liver sausage, thin slices of flavorful boiled ham, and corned beef or sandwich slices make an attractive and delicious combination. Water-thin slices of cheese, small sweet pickles and radish roses with sprigs of watercress complete the platter.

These same cold meats have other uses, too. For example, cubes of salami add zest to a green salad, corned beef makes a tasty casserole meal, and slices of boiled ham combine with cream cheese and chives to make a tempting and unusual dish for lunch or supper plates.

I've chosen from my file of tested recipes a half dozen which will add new interest to your meals. I hope they may inspire you to do a little experimenting on your own.

Luncheon Slices.

(Serves 4-5)

5 slices of sandwich loaf (1/4-inch thick)
1 egg (beaten)
Fine crumbs
Dip meat in beaten egg and then in crumbs. Fry in deep fat, heated to 380 degrees, until golden brown. Serve with sauteed pineapple rings.

Ham and Cheese Pinwheels.

(Serves 4)

1 3-ounce package cream cheese
1 1/2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 tablespoon chives (minced)
4 slices boiled ham
Combine cream cheese, mayonnaise and chives. Spread generously on the slices of boiled ham. Roll each slice firmly, wrap in wax paper and chill. When ready to serve, cut the rolls into slices 1/4 inch thick. Arrange on a bed of watercress and serve with French dressing.

Rabbit Sandwich Filling.

1/4 pound dried beef
1 pound American cheese
1 cup condensed tomato soup
Grind the dried beef and the cheese in a food chopper. Add soup and blend well. This may be kept in the refrigerator for several weeks.

Ham and Cabbage Slaw.

(Serves 4-5)

2 cups cabbage (finely shredded)
1/2 cup green pepper (cut in slivers)
1 cup boiled ham (cut in slivers)
1 teaspoon onion (minced)

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
1/2 cup salad dressing
1 egg white (beaten)

Combine cabbage, green pepper, ham and onion. Add salt and pepper. Fold salad dressing into stiffly beaten egg white, and mix lightly with salad ingredients. Serve in salad bowl.

Corned Beef de Luxe.

(Serves 5)

2 cups potatoes (cooked and sliced)
1 12-oz. can corned beef (sliced)
1 cup onions (sliced very thin)
3 hard cooked eggs

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
Pepper and paprika to taste
1 cup cheese (grated)
1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs
In a greased casserole place alternate layers of potatoes, corned beef and onions. Cut the eggs in two, crosswise, and push into the mixture, cut side up. Make a white sauce of the butter, flour, milk and seasonings. Add the cheese to the sauce and pour over all. Sprinkle buttered bread crumbs over the top and bake in a moderate (375 degree) oven for approximately 30 minutes or until browned and heated through.

Salami Salad.

(Serves 5)

1 cup salami (cut in cubes)
2 cups cabbage (shredded)
1 cup raw spinach (shredded)
1/2 cup sharp American cheese (grated)
1/2 cup French dressing

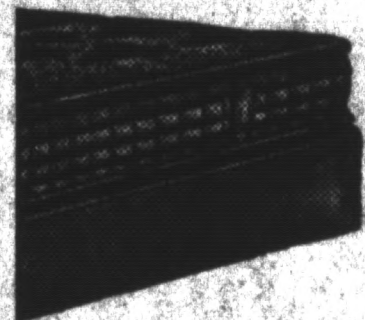

Combine salami, cabbage, and spinach. Add cheese to French dressing, and pour over the salami ingredients. Chill thoroughly. Serve in large bowl lined with lettuce.

NEW STYLE IN DRESSING TABLES

WITH its gleaming top of mirrored plate glass and amusing skirt of eyelet embroidery, this dressing table illustrates a steadily growing trend towards the Victorian era which is affecting fashions in furniture as well as clothes. Introduced in a showing of model rooms on exhibition in New York, the table is divided into three sections. The front part swings open to show shelves for toilet articles and permit the owner to sit down. The sash is of Duchess blue taffeta ribbon and, as can be seen in the picture, the mirrored top adds glamour with its interesting reflections.

Adults, too, need the health-giving qualities of Nature's most perfect food—MILK.

The wise housewife serves this delicious, wholesome drink generously each day. She orders it from the Mission Creamery, which features a convenient home service for its customers.

State Okeys County Project

State approval of the proposed 11,000-acre San Mateo County Soil Conservation district was received by the board of supervisors last week in a communication from the State Soil Conservation committee.

The approval of the committee, according to County Engineer M. A. Grant, clears the greatest obstacle to the project designed to protect a vast area of county agricultural land from continued inroads of erosion.

With state approval, he said, the county may proceed with organization of the district. Notice of the proposal to form the district already has been published, Grant said. Next step is to fix and advertise a protest hearing date following which an election will be held in the district to choose five directors.

Once formed, the district will operate with federal aid, it was anticipated, with a large force of Civilian Conservation Corps workers engaged in the work of scientific conservation.

Originally designed to cover only the Colma Creek basin, where erosion causes silting of the Colma Creek channel each year, the project has been enlarged to meet state specifications, Grant explained. It now extends from Montara on the Coast to the San Francisco county line.

Model railroads operated by the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe and other lines in Treasure Island's Vacationland attract more grown-ups than youngsters, attendants insist.

In Court Of Reflections

Treasure Island courts have won world acclaim for their beauty. This picture was taken in the lovely Court of Reflections, where a long pool filled with azure-colored water mirrors the majestic Tower of the Sun and the huge flags that fly gallantly in the Court of Honor at the Golden Gate International Exposition.

A manufacturer of electric razors exhibiting on Treasure Island gives away hundreds of free shaves daily.

Yellow for Light
To brighten a poorly lighted bedroom, a color scheme includes walls painted daffodil yellow, a paler yellow ceiling and white woodwork with thin lines of orange color.

Care of Dishcloths
To save your dishcloths use a medium-sized cork dipped into scouring powder when polishing paring knives or other cutlery.

One can "eat in all languages" on Treasure Island. The visitor may make his choice among the cuisine of Java, Mexico, Scotland, the Argentine, France, Japan, Netherlands, China. Or fall back on the ever-reliable American cafeteria!

Hilltop Lodge Policy Is Success

Hilltop Lodge, the rendezvous of fun where everyone meets for an evening of gaiety, has hit a natural. By reducing its price policy to fifteen cents, yet maintaining its dignity and refinement, the Hilltop is bringing old faces in more often—new ones, too.

Fred Wood, that smiling man behind the bar, asked that this tip be passed on to the ladies. "Come in Thursday evenings—it's ladies' stag night—relax and have a good time."
